

Hepat5 is a natural remedy which consists of a homogenous mixture of five known Pharmacopoeial herbs. Hepat5 was developed after careful laboratory studies which had been conducted for more 4 years. More than 55 individuals of both sexes, aged between 20-70 years of age suffering from moderate to severe liver inflammations (hepatitis). These studies indicated that Hepat5 is a unique and novel supplement that can be given to patients suffering from hepatitis. It is characterized by its components which were selected and mixed thoroughly. Indications: Hepat5 is indicated for the following:

- ❖ Liver inflammations (moderate to severe).
- ❖ Liver dysfunctions.
- ❖ To restore liver function to its normal condition.
- ❖ To regulate liver enzymes.
- ❖ To strengthen and activate the body's immune system, by stimulating blood cells to release various interferons.

Results: Both pre-clinical and clinical studies conducted on more than 350 individuals of both sexes showed that Hepat5:

- ❖ Acts distinctly to restore liver functions to its normal condition, by regulating the important roles of enzymes that are associated with the liver.
 - ❖ Helps to activate and strengthen the body immune system, by stimulating blood cells to release various interferons.
 - ❖ Useful for liver inflammation (Hepatitis).
1. Hepat5 can adjust most liver enzymes such as ALT, AST, Bilirubin, LDH, Amylase....and therefore, it is useful to patients suffering from Hepatitis B and C . It can adjust the above enzymes within a couple of days -weeks depending on the severity of the case but with no side effects.
 2. Hepat5 was used by many cancer patients with liver metastasis and with elevated liver enzymes and again they showed good response to their elevated liver enzymes.
 3. Hepat5 was prescribed by many clinician for patients suffering from Psoriasis and again it showed good and significant response .
 4. Hepat5 was also used for some autoimmune diseases patient's (Sjogren's, vasculitis, SLE) and we have also good feedback . It adjusts the ESR, leukocytes count and Hb concentration.
 5. Hepat5 is used by many individuals to lower lipids in the blood with good success and therefore, it is good for those having fatty liver.

6. Hepat5 Can be used by heavy alcoholic people to help in cleansing and protecting the liver and again with good success.

Side effects: No side effects were reported when Hepat5 used at therapeutic doses. Overdosing may cause nausea and diarrhea.

Dose: One capsule, three times daily after meals. Contraindications: None reported so far. Not to be used during pregnancy. Recommendations: For best results; Hepat5 should be taken continuously for minimum period of less than six months in case of hepatitis. This is to enable the liver to function normally. For chronic hepatitis, Hepat5 should be taken for a period of less than 12 months.
